Dear Councilor Siddiqui,

My name is Eliza Klein and I am currently a student at Williams College. I think you know my mom, Debbie Klein. I grew up in Cambridge, attending the Cambridge Public Schools for my entire life, and have always been active in standing up for social justice issues in the city. I was the president of the Environmental Action Club at CRLS for multiple years, and was active in advocating for the creation of the composting program in the Cambridge Public Schools. Additionally, I voted for you for City Council because of your commitment to progressive issues.

Today, I am emailing you today to support the Massachusetts Against Hewlett-Packard campaign, and to urge you to do the same. I stand with Massachusetts Against Hewlett-Packard because I care deeply about immigrant rights, international law, incarcerated people, and Cambridge's long history of standing on the side of justice. Additionally, I am a proud Jew who firmly believes that Palestinians should be treated humanely.

It is so important to me that the Cambridge City Council votes with conscience and takes a strong stand for Palestinian human rights on the issue to be discussed on the 23rd. I hope to continue voting for City Council members who stand for the human rights of all people, and especially the human rights of Palestinians. As a community that takes pride in standing up for social justice and human rights, I implore you to be on the right side of history.

Best,
Eliza
